525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE EASTERN BASE of the Rocky Mountains and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by the United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations, and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present, the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present AT PAR IN U. S. CURRENCY, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Portland by Eastern Press on Impeachment.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23. The Tribune leader of to morrow will say:

"The President has assumed the responsibility of breaking a law, and Congress must assume the responsibility of impeaching him. Not to do so in the face of this flagrant and insolent proceeding, is to become a partner in the crime. It is no time to consider the party influence of impeachment, of its effects on the Presidential candidates. We would rather see the Republican party candidates and all driven into the desert of Arabia, than to have them tremble one moment in the presence of this high duty. The questions of expediency were all well enough, so long as the President stood within the pale of the law, but now, when he presumes to be the executive, legislative and judicial power, when he claims to decide which laws Congress may pass, and what acts are constitutional, to hesitate a moment is criminal.

The Chicago Tribune of February 25th, says:

Andrew Johnson yesterday sent to the Senate, the nomination of Thomas Ewing as Secretary of war in the regular way, with a letter explaining that he did not intend to violate any law in his summary proceedings of last Friday. The lion's skin is already off, and the animal of long ears stands trembling under the lash. Never was there a more ignominious backdown. The nomination of Ewing is an afterthought. When the humble individual found that the Democrats did not rally to his standard and offer to defend him against the consequences of his crime and share his punishment, his knees smote together and he began to explore the avenues of escape. If he had wanted Ewing for Secretary of War, he knew it last Friday, and could have nominated him then. If he wanted Thomas he could have nominated him, instead of assuming to appoint him without the concurrence of the Senate. But he wanted to commend himself to the copperhead party by defying the law, and expose himself to impeachment. He finds himself without allies, with impeachment close upon him, and he seeks now to compromise with the officers of justice.

It is too late! The American people impeach you, Andrew Johnson, as a disturber of national law, the stumbling block of national justice, and the organizer of national ruin. They demand that for these offenses against them, and against the human family of which they are a part, you be branded as a betrayer of the people, stripped of the robes you have stained, and go forth solitary among mankind forever. For you there is no death bed repentance! Your public life is without a redeeming feature. Wherever there has been an appearance of virtue time has washed off the varnish, and there exposed to all the world, stands the unvarying record of the desperado and the demagogue. Your bad example has been borne too long already. It is time for you to be going, and go you must.

[From the Chicago Republican of Feb. 24th.]

The 22d of February has acquired a new significance in American eyes. Hitherto, memorable as the birthday of the first of our Presidents—the Father of our country—it will, we trust, henceforth be marked as the day which inaugurated the downfall of the one who would have become its betrayer. On Saturday Andrew Johnson was impeached by a committee of the people's representatives in Congress, of high crimes and misdemeanors against the nation and its laws. The unanimity [illegible] the committee made up their verdict is indicative, we trust and believe, of the one [illegible] of the entire body, and in the light of these recent and unmistakable developments of the President's will and intentions, that High Court of Impeachment, the Senate of the United States, can scarcely fail to execute the declared verdict of a people.

We have been of those who believed that Andrew Johnson should long since have been swept out of the nation's progress to peace and unity, which he so defiantly obstructed. We thought he had before this sufficiently developed the sympathy with traitors, and the determined intention to render nugatory the victories of the war, that constituted a high "crime and misdemeanor" contemplated by the Constitution. With this "impediment to reconstruction" removed, the road to settlement would be plain and smooth. But in their reluctance to set up new precedents, with perhaps a natural dread of convulsing the country with so harsh a measure, Congress forebore to arraign this man at the bar where his manifold iniquities might have been tried and punished. With a strange infatuation, however, that looks like fatality, he has himself furnished the instruments of his own destruction, and so persistently forced them into the hands of Congress, that the most reluctant cannot choose but lift the sword and strike at one who so courts and so deserves the blow. "Whom the gods wish to destroy, they first make mad," and nothing but the very ecstacy of insanity could have tempted Andrew Johnson upon this last venturesome and defiant step. History furnishes but one parallel to such an act, the case of Erostratus, who courted an immortality of infamy, rather than a virtuous obscurity in the record of the ages.

There is no more important business for the country to engage in, just now, than the trial of its Chief Magistrate for crimes against the nation. It will be a solemn and momentous spectacle, the gravest ever witnessed in a republic. It will pass into history side by side with other great State trials, undertaken at various stages of the world's progress for the sake of freedom to the people. Johnson's removal will be regarded as getting rid in the quietest possible manner, of a desperado, who has done but little else but insult and defy the popular will. There will be none to regret his fate; and he will stand pilloried in history the only conspicuous blot in our line of Presidents, and a reproach and a warning for all future time. Let him go down.

The Washington Chronicle heads its leader "Usurpation," and says:

Andrew Johnson seems resolved, to celebrate another anniversary of Washington's Birthday after the precedent two years ago. From the day of his speech to the Copperheads and returned rebels, before the Presidential Mansion, he has been eminently successful in every dark deed, except exciting the freedmen to violence. He has filled the rebel whites with new malevolence, and has made the hearts of the loyal millions sad. He has persecuted the tried men in and out of the army. He has traduced and sought to humiliate such soldiers as Grant, Sheridan, Swayne and Pope, and has attempted to debauch Sherman and Gen. H. Thomas. Long ago he proclaimed that the Supreme Court was ready to assist his purposes, and now, eager to precipitate a civil war, he has removed Mr. Stanton as Secretary of War, and appointed the Adjutant General, ad interim, in deliberate contempt of the Civil Tenure law, and of the prerogative of the Senate, which is made by the Constitution the advisor of the President in all matters relating to the displacement and appointment of certain officials.

Acting under the advice of wicked counsellors, men who either planned the rebellion or declared it could not be constitutionally resisted, he is as completely in the hands of the traitors as if that bloody conspiracy had triumphed.

When the traitors at Montgomery came to frame their so called Constitution they saw that the Republican Congress at Washington was master of the position, and so they concluded to save themselves from a similar danger in the event of their success, by making their President independent of Congress in the selection and removal of his Cabinet. Accordingly, they added to the last paragraph of Article II of the Constitution of the United States, which they substantially adopted the following:

"The principal officers in each of the executive departments, and all persons connected with the diplomatic service, may be removed from office at the pleasure of the President."

That the law officer of James Buchanan's Administration, now the chief adviser of Andrew Johnson, believed the rebel Constitution to be superior to that of the fathers, has been more than once asserted, and the fact that the lawyers of the perished Confederacy are now the chosen confidants of the Accidental Executive, is proved by the tenacity with which they adhere to the principle asserted in the rebel Constitution. Having induced Andrew Johnson to violate his ten thousand pledges to punish traitors and to reconstruct the South in the interests of loyalty alone, these desperate conspirators had no difficulty in obtaining his consent to defy the law and to insult the Senate of the United States.

The Menken is going to write the history of her Husband. Perhaps Brigham Young will favor us with a biography of his wife.

Brick Pomeroy on Impeachment

(From the La Crosse Democrat, Feb. 27.)

"LET THE GALLED JADE WINCE, OUR WITHERS ARE UNWRUNG."

It is pretty well known, we think, what opinion we entertain of Andrew Johnson. We have never seen anything in him as a public man, in any part of his history, particularly to admire. His career for most of the time during the last seven years has been infamous. And his position to-day commands neither our respect nor our confidence.

Andrew Johnson has neither honesty nor straightforwardness in his action. He is a man of low moral nature, coarse grain, great selfishness and boundless ambition.

Naturally a ruffian and a tyrant, he is a great moral coward.

Intensely anxious to advance his personal interests and attain the ends of his political ambition, his very excess of selfishness warps his judgment and causes him to blunder in every step he takes, and miss the mark at which he aims.

When he came into the Presidency, he was immediately seized with the passion to become the great ruling spirit of the country, and secure the Presidential office for another term. To accomplish this, he thought it necessary to break with his mongrel associates with whom he had been acting for several years, and who elected him to the office which he then held and now holds.

In this he was probably mistaken. It is very likely, that if he had preserved his political connection with them, and continued to display the same brutal and bloodthirsty spirit which had recommended him to them, and secured him the nomination for the Vice Presidency, he would have been their candidate in the approaching canvass, with whatever chance of an election it might have afforded him. But he did not see it.

After once having broken with them, he has, step by step, been making the breach wider and wider, and exasperating them more and more against him, until at last, by another piece of blundering and stupidity, he has brought down upon his head an impeachment, which will probably result in his conviction and removal from office.

There have been many occasions when, if he had been an honest, clear headed, and truly courageous man, he might have put his adversaries down and carried the country with him.

But he has never displayed true decision of character and real firmness of purpose, and hence has always stopped short of the point to which he should have advanced, at the critical moment, and, not only failed in his object, but allowed his enemies to turn the tables on him, and generally make political capital out of his blunders and shortcomings.

We have attributed this, in our own mind, and still think we are right in this view, to a fear that if he moved directly, decisively to the point of putting down the Mongrels, as he might have done, at several different times, but failed to improve the opportunities, the event would turn only to the advantage of the Democratic party, and place in the Presidency one of its representative men, instead of inuring to his own benefit, and securing him the office for another term.

This will account for much that has seemed so stupid and inexplicable in his conduct. At several times he has for a moment appeared inspired with high courage and determined purpose, and the hopes and almost the enthusiasm of the true friends of the country would be excited by the prospect of deliverance from Mongrel rule and the restoration of the constitutional government. But this would seem to frighten him, and cause him to stop half way in the move he was making, and thus he took nothing by it, but rather in the end lost ground.

Why was this?

Because he saw that the Democratic party, and not Andrew Johnson, was to reap the fruits of the anticipated victory!

Then, again, he has shown such an utter incapacity of adapting means to ends, and so poor an insight into the character and proclivities of men, that he could not fail to miscarry in all his schemes.

By nominations which he has made himself, he has petted the drunken, lying butcher, with whom he has lately been coming into collision, until this mere military subordinate snubs and treats with mutinous contempt and defiance the Commander in Chief of all the armies of the United States. And he has placed this insubordinate officer so high in rank that no competent court-martial can be convened to try him for his misconduct.

Wanting to get rid of that mangy cur, Stanton as a member of his Cabinet, he removed him, and put boss talking, whiskey drinking, false tongued, sneak souled, low-lived Grant in his place, who, when required by the Rump, gave back the office to his vile and ruffianly predecessor, which might have been avoided, had some fit man been put into the position in the first instance, who would not have surrendered it in this way.

Opposed to the military measures of the Rump for the occupation and coercion of the South, by armed force, in erecting negro government over the white inhabitants, he appointed the vilest men in the army to command there.

Becoming dissatisfied with the conduct of King Pope, one of these commanders, he removed him, and appointed King Meade, a more unscrupulous and tyrannical Herod than the first.

Casting about to find some military man to play off against Washburne's ass, he went to coquetting with Tecumseh Sherman—him of the torch and bummers, so well named after the great chief of tomahawk and scalping knife memory—but Tecumseh could not be won with all his wooing. Then he made one of his blind dives at General George H. Thomas, that degenerate and apostate Virginian and devout worshipper of the Black Crook, whom it was as impossible to inspire with a proper sense of what is due to the white race of his country, as to make of Stanton anything but a woman murderer, Butler anything but a spoon thief, or prove that Grant was ever sober, or in a single instance in all his life told the truth except by accident.

And now, at least, making one more effort to oust Stanton, he does it in a way which would necessarily incur failure, by appointing Adjutant General Lorenzo Thomas Secretary of War ad interim, and sending him in the open day, while Stanton was in full possession, to demand the office, books and papers, when Stanton would, of course, refuse, while by waiting till the brute had gone home to feed or sleep, the Adjutant General could have stepped in, and then have kept the bully out in turn.

But as the case stands, by the merest want of tact and judgment, Stanton holds on to the War Office the Adjutant General has made himself ridiculous, the Rump has got its back up, Johnson is impeached, and there is a grand muss generally.

Now, about all this we are perfectly cool. It does not disturb our equanimity in the least. We are not surprised at what has happened, and don't care a Continental—for it all. We expected nothing better of Andy Johnson, and are therefore in no way disappointed. We did not look for any good from him, we placed no dependence upon him, we had no confidence in him, we despised him. Now the Mongrels may work their will upon him, for aught that we care. He is one of them has played the usurper and tyrant himself, and let him bear some of his own "curses come home to roost."

Rumpites, "drive on your ext!"

"This is not our funeral!"

NEWSPAPER POWER.—Thirty years ago, says Wilkes' Spirit, the orators ruled America; to-day it is ruled by the editors. It adds: there is a class of men among bankers, merchants and lawyers who affect a condescension towards the journalist which is immensely amusing. The writers for the newspapers appear to their blinking eyes as a kind of literary adventurer, who is to be tolerated for his genius, but not to be trusted in business. They are ignorant that it tells their goods, furnishes all their facts, and furnishes them gratuitously with their opinions. They do not know as Jay Cooke does, that the newspapers of America sold two thousand millions of National bonds. They do not know as Edwin M. Stanton knows, that the newspapers of America sent five hundred thousand men to the war. They do not know that the newspapers of America will nominate the candidate for the Presidency, determine the election, [illegible] Congress and [illegible] whether Andrew Johnson is to be [illegible] Newspapers lead them by the nose wherever they go, but they do not feel the pressure, which is the particular reason why they give this particular tweak.

NASBY ON THE "PENDLETON THEORY" IN KENTUCKY.

POST OFFIS, CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
(Wich is in the State uv Kentucky,)
February 1, 1868.

A few days ago Bascom come into the offis, where I wus bizzy attendin to the biznis uv the Ionited Statis uv Amerikey, a smokin a cigar and drinkin hot punch out uv a tin dipper in wich I compound the artikle, and remarkt that he thot it wuz about time the Corners spoke.

"Onto wat partickler subjek would you hev the Corners speak, my cherub?" sed I. "The Corners hez exercised her throat onto almost everything up to date."

"Troo," said G. W., "but there's one subjek onto wich the Corners hezn't hed her say, namely, the crushin wate uv taxashen, and the question uv payin the bonds in greenbax."

"That's probably becos," remarkt I, "the Corners pays nary tax, and becos, also, not havin any bonds nor any greenbax, she don't care, to speak after the manner uv men, a d—n whether it. Isn't that the case?"

"Probably it is, but at the same time we ought to extend a helpin hand to our friends North who are makin a galyent fite on this thing. Parson, we must hold a meetin onto this subjek and resolve."

Willin to accommodate Bascom, I called the meetin, and last nite it took place. It wuz an enthoosiastic getheren, as the meetins at the Corners, wich I report allux are. Skasely hed the horn tooted afore the church wuz filled. It wuz curiosity wich brot em. None uv em but Bascom, Captain McPelter and myself knowd wat a bond wuz, and they wanted to find out. I wuz called upon to state the objek uv the getherin. I opened with a movin appeal to the people who wuz groanin under a load uv tacksashen, for the benefit uv the lordly bondholders uv the country, whose very life blood wuz a bein sucked out uv em by the bond aristocrats uv the country.

At this point Joe Bigler, who wuz uv course in the aujence, commenst a snorin profoundly, but disgustingly loud. He fairly bellered, and displayed altogether too much smoshen.

"Bigler," sed I, "woodent a little less violent sorrer anser?"

"Parson," said he, "never havin paid a cussid cent uv taxes in my life, I never knowd afore how much I wuz bein oppresst. But I'll contain myself if I kin. I'll cork up my woes if they bust me."

I then went on to explain the Pendleton ijee. First, the Government owes about four hundred thousand millions uv dollars, more or less, wich is borrowed. The Abulishn ijee is to pay this off ez fast ez it falls due, in gold, and in the meantime to pay interest onto the bonds as per agreement on the face uv em. But this is oppressive. This paying interest is wat's eatin us up. There fore Pendleton proposes to pay these bonds by ishooin four hundred thousand millions uv greenbax. When these greenbax wear out so that they aint passable no more—so that Bascom wont take em for drinks, for instance—why, then we'll print more greenbax and give em new ones. I don't see that the debt is paid off eny, but we can get out of the interest. We ishoo a non-bearing interest note wich the greenbax is, for an int'rst bearin note which the present bond is, and compel the bond holders to take em, thus rooinin us, the tax payers, by the weight uv taxashen we are now compelled to carry. This ijee is not, however, original with Pendleton. He's bin a stealin my thunder. I had subsisted many years in Neo Jersey and elsewhere by the same expedient. Whenever I owed a man I gave him my note, and felt that a great load wuz off my mind. When it became doo, if it made the creditor eny easier in his mind, I took it up by givin him another, pervided he wuz willin and hed faith enuff to pay for the stamps. It wuz an easy and simple method uv gittin on in the world without unpleasantnis.

Captain McPelter, late uv the Confedrit army, wanted to know of the greenbax wuz good enuff for the soldier, of it wasn't good enuff for the bondholder?

Bascom indursed all that hed bin sed, and demanded resolooshens, movin ones wich he presented, and they wuz passed.

At this pint occurred suthin wich wasn't down in the bills. Skasely had the resolooshens passed, when Joe Bigler stepped forward and remarkt that he had votid for them resolooshens bekoz he believed in em. But he wanted the ijee carried forerd to its logical conclusion. He owed Bascom eighty odd dollars, wich wuz bearin interest, and he'd bin for some time, and wood, probably, for some time to come. Now, what is justis in Government matters, is ekally so in private life. He demanded of Bascom that note, and that he accept in its stead one wich bore no interest. He hed borne this burden too long, and it was high time that he be relieved.

Deekin Pogram felt that he must agree with Mr. Bigler. Bascom held his note for $400, hed bin runnin on interest for a long time, and he felt that he coodent stand it, no——

"Why, blarst yer eyes," ses Bascom, "I lent you that money to save your farm from bein sold from under yer feet!"

"Troo, but there's a principle in it. I can't toil to pay interest to yoo more than I kin to the Government. Let us be consistent, G. W., whatever we are."

At this juncter every man in the bildin rose to his feet very excitedly, and all uv em in korus commenst:

"Bascom holds a note uv mine which bears interest, and I—"

And Bascom, badgered as he wuz, flung himself out uv the church in disgust. The aujence, who hed, however, got an idee, wuz not dispersed to give it up. They follered him, without any formal adjournment, to his grosery, but he hed anticipated that, and locked it. But all that nite they hung around the place, yelling, "Give me my note!" and they hed faith they would finally bring him to terms.

But along about seven o'clock the people begun to change their toon. It wuz time for their mornin bitter, and they exclaimed, ez one man, "Bascom, why don't you open up? Let us in!"

All uv a sudden the door was flung open, and there wuz revealed to the gaze uv the Corners, the most impressive tableo ever witnest. In the center uv the room stood Bascom, with a burnin pine knot in his hand, wildly wavin it over his head; afore him stood a barl uv whisky on eend with the head out. We growd pale.

"Ha! ha!" laff'd he, with the most malignant and feendish expression upon his countenance, "it wus yoor turn last nite; this mornin its mine. Ther aint a drop in the Corners cept wat is in this barl and not a drop uv this shall you hav for luv or money! Ha! ha! Who has the inside track now? I'll burn it the minit the first one crosses the threshold!"

"Make a rush," yelled Bigler, "it won't burn, cuz he's bin a waterin it for a week."

"Ha! troo, troo! but I hev yoo yit. I'll overturn the barl."

I seed the point to wunst. A cold chill crept over me, and Deekin Pogram shook like an aspen leaf. None could be procoord this side of Looisvill, three days at least! Spose the recklis man shood carry out his recklis threat.

The Deekin and I threw ourselves into the breach. We saw that Bascom wuz in ded earnest. The crowd saw things as we did and softened down. It wuz finally perposed ez a compermise that the rekords uv the meetin shood be destroyed, and that the ijee uv exchangin notes with Bascom shood be abandoned, and Bascom on his part to go on ez yoosual. This settled, we all took our regular stiffeners, and thus the Corners bridged the greatest danger that ever threatened her.

Ther is peece heer now.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M.
(wich is Postmaster.)

The Democratic papers are quoting a sentence in which Daniel Webster is made to say that "if the infernal fanatics and abolitionists" get power in their hands, the country will be made bankrupt and deluged with blood. The Philadelphia Age which prints it in capital letters seven times on one page, professes to quote it from his 7th of March speech. Nothing of the sort is in that speech, and it has been more than once authoritatively denied that he ever said anything of the kind. Mr. Webster was not in the habit of styling his political opponents "infernal fanatics," however he might differ from them in opinion.—N. Y. Times.

Constitutional Guides

Since the 4th of March 1861 when Abraham Lincoln entered the Presidential office every principal measure of the Union party has been denounced as unconstitutional by the so called "Democracy" When the starving garrison in Charleston harbor was to be reinforced and supplied, these sticklers for the Constitution opposed it, declaring that there was no warrant in that instrument for relieving them When the National Capital was beleaguered by a traitorous enemy, these same "constitutional lawyers insisted that if troops were sent through the sovereign State of Maryland to the national defence the Constitution would be destroyed When President Lincoln announced his intention to repossess and to hold the forts arsenals and navy yards that had been seized by the rebels these same expounders of constitutional law shouted "you can't constitutionally do it" The cry all the time was, "Stand by the Constitution" "Standing by the Constitution" was Buchanan's strong point, and while he stood by it in accordance with the "Democratic" theory, the great conspiracy went on until it culminated in war War is a monstrous crime, and civil war is many times more criminal than any other It is treachery to the ties of nature It fires passions which it will take generations to wear out It brings monstrous burdens upon the shoulders of the people. Those are the fruits of the "Democratic" theory of the Constitution Are those who have such a record fit to be trusted as constitutional guides? And how much are their opinions in regard to the Constitution worth, who held such positions as these men held before and during the rebellion? They were just as forward then in giving their advice as now and just as importunate, but was their advice on constitutional subjects so valuable then as to make it the duty of the people to heed them now?

And who does not remember how incessantly these same individuals, during the whole period of the great struggle, continued to declaim and rant about the unconstitutionality of coercing sovereign States, how they denounced the marching of troops into the rebel territory, how they went into constitutional spasms about the refusal of the Government, after the second year of the war, to return fugitive slaves, how they bawled until their symptoms became suggestive of apoplexy, over the unconstitutionality of the draft, of emancipation, of the blockade, of greenbacks, of enlisting colored troops, of imprisoning and punishing traitors, and of every step which the Government took in its long struggle for its constitutional supremacy, for unity and for peace? Who does not remember how they obstructed the ministry at every step of its march through these perils? And remembering these things, how much weight are we to attach either to their present protestations of love for the Constitution, or to their advice so officiously given about the propriety or constitutionality of measures which the loyal people of the country support? Just as they condemn the reconstruction policy of Congress, so they condemned the coercion of the rebel States and the emancipation of the colored race Allow them to tell the story, and everything is unconstitutional but secession and national disintegration Against secession, they never raised the cry of "unconstitutional," but they raised that cry against every measure which was adopted to defeat it, and continue it against every measure which is calculated to secure the fruits of the struggle. Are these men fit to be received as constitutional guides? If the country ever receives them as such, it will have adopted the remedy suggested by a splenetic character in the great dramatist

GREAT MEETING AT ORO FINO HALL

ANOTHER IMMENSE RATIFICATION MEETING IN PORTLAND BOUNDLESS ENTHUSIASM EVERY UNION MAN AT HIS POST ANOTHER MANIFESTATION OF THE VOICE OF MULTNOMAH

The return of Hon David Logan to this city yesterday, was welcomed by an immense meeting last evening at Oro Fino Hall This second ratification meeting was fully in the spirit of the one which was held at the Court House on the evening of Thursday last. There is no mistaking the fact that the Union men of Portland are more enthusiastic, more thoroughly united and more determined to win than they have been at any former time for years The interest which was shown last week is not only sustained but is increasing every day. The Hall last night was filled to overflowing, and all felt the inspiration of ardent zeal and confidence of triumph Short speeches were made by Messrs Mitchell Meacham Gille and Whitten The principal address was by Mr Logan His appearance before the audience was greeted with every demonstration of favor and applause He spoke about an hour devoting the time particularly to a statement of the issues between the parties and to defining the position of Congress and the Union party on the question of reconstruction His remarks were distinguished for clearness and simplicity of statement and for a fair and convincing presentation of the principal measures and issues involved in the restoration of the rebel States to their relations with the Government of the Union There can be no misunderstanding of the subject as he presented it To say that Union men here are satisfied with their candidate and his positions on the great questions at issue would be too tame a statement they are positively enthusiastic and will work with unwonted earnestness and resolution We expect to increase our majority in this county over that gained at the last State election If we do not then all signs go for nothing To our friends through out the State we will say that Multnomah [illegible] duty There can be no mistake about it Let our friends in every county [illegible] with like energy [illegible]

Congressional

WASHINGTON, March 28.—In the Senate the report of the Conference Committee on the bill conveying to the Treasury the proceeds of captured and [illegible] property was agreed to

The House after receiving [illegible] referred [illegible] under the bill admitting Alabama [illegible] Congress

Ashley [illegible] offered a substitute for the bill [illegible]

[illegible]

Williams of Pennsylvania did not believe it was [illegible] to compel the people of Alabama to enjoy a [illegible] of Union and a share in the government against their expressed will

Bingham opposed the third section. It was [illegible] neither by the law nor the Constitution [illegible] the Federal Constitution and they could not be deprived of that right

Davis could see no security in the bill for the people of Alabama

Thad Stevens spoke at some length He said having conquered the territory from an enemy power we had the right to take it into the Union or keep it as we pleased Stevens declared that under the present laws of the Southern States scores of negroes had been sold into slavery for a period of twenty years By their laws it is provided in case of assault and battery a man could be sold for twenty years He declared that he did not intend to vote for any constitution which did not give universal impartial suffrage and bind fast as human ingenuity can that provision forever and unalterable in the instrument so that if ever taken out by them it shall take every part of the instrument itself and send them back to [illegible] under a new law

Boutwell opposed the amendment offered by Stevens He moved to strike out the third section and said it had been urged upon in committee

After further debate the House proceeded to vote on the amendments The third section was stricken out 4 to 33 and finally the House rejected the bill as it came from the committee and adopted a substitute amendment which is the same as the bill introduced in the Senate by Stewart

The bill for the admission of Alabama

The bill which passed the House yesterday [illegible] the bill to provide a temporary and provisional government for the State of Alabama provides

Section 1st The Constitution lately submitted for ratification is hereby declared to be the organic law for a provisional government of Alabama so far as the same is not in conflict with the Constitution and laws of the United States The officers elected at the late election shall qualify May 1st as provided by said Constitution and immediately enter upon the discharge of their duties

Sec 2. The Governor at any time after qualifying, may convene the Legislature by proclamation said Legislature to possess all the powers conferred by the Constitution not in conflict with the Constitution and laws of the United States The Legislature is further empowered to submit said Constitution to the qualified electors for ratification at such time as it may designate The Legislature by a majority vote may submit said Constitution as framed by the Convention or with amendments proposed by the Legislature but if any amendment is proposed by the Legislature it must be voted on separately from the Constitution as it came from the Convention

Sec. 3 Whenever a majority of the qualified electors voting shall ratify the Constitution submitted as aforesaid and the Legislature shall ratify the amendments to the United States Constitution known as the 14th Article the Constitution of Alabama may be presented to Congress for approval

Sec 4 The District Commander shall furnish all necessary aid in enforcing this act and the reconstruction acts except as modified by this act shall remain in force until Alabama is restored to representation in Congress

SHOOTING AFFRAY—A WOMAN SHOT.—About half past ten o'clock last evening an altercation occurred at a Saloon next door to Young's Marble shop on Front street between a man named Charles Starr and Celia Levy, the keeper of a [illegible] Celia went into the saloon known as [illegible] just as Starr was about to go out, the two meeting near the door inside. Starr was somewhat inebriated. The two stood near the bar talking to each other when after a few words Celia charged Starr with owing her three dollars. Starr denied owing her, and in a moment they began to call each other bad names. Celia finally slapped Starr in the face. The latter immediately drew a pistol from his pocket, and Celia seeing the movement stepped back two or three paces and dared him to shoot. Starr, however, did not then shoot and Celia started as if to go out of the door. Starr then struck her and stepping back a few feet toward the centre of the saloon again drew his pistol and fired at her, the ball taking effect near the lower end of the left lung. Celia immediately walked out of the door, Starr following. The latter [illegible] later ran across the street and escaped up Ash street. Dr Chapman was called to attend upon the [illegible] woman, but at the time we visited the place he was unable to determine whether the ball took such a course as would endanger the life of the woman.

BAD NEWS FROM THE AJAX.—Mr. Wendler received yesterday forenoon a dispatch from Monticello in substance that the Ajax on Saturday became disabled when about [illegible] miles from the Columbia bar and off Tillamook [illegible]. The news was brought to Monticello by the 1st officer of the Ajax, who returned across the bar in a small boat, and rowed up to Monticello. It is not known precisely what is the nature of the disability, but it is presumed of course that it is a breaking of her machinery. The stories afloat in this connection are various, but not very reliable. Upon the receipt of the news Mr. Wendler immediately directed the Continental to be got in readiness to sail to the assistance of the Ajax, and she left here late last evening, having taken but a small amount of freight. Owing to the uncertainty as to where, when or in what condition she would find the Ajax, Mr [illegible] concluded to take no passengers. It must depend on circumstances whether the Continental will return here or go on. If the Ajax be found near the bar the [illegible] will tow her in and in that case will return here to complete her cargo. No danger to the Ajax [illegible] the weather should change unfavorably with wind blowing ashore. Nevertheless, those who have friends on board of her, are feeling much [illegible] by the vagueness of the news and [illegible] rumors on the streets.

WELLS MADE EASY.—We saw at C. H. Myer's yesterday, a late invention for procuring water [illegible] a well. The process is to drive a pipe of about two inches diameter to whatever depth may be [illegible] to reach the loose gravel in which good water is usually found, and to attach a pump at the upper end. The lower end of the pipe is fitted with a plug pointed at the end, and fastened in the pipe by a slotted stem. [illegible] being driven, the pipe rests upon a shoulder of the [illegible] the latter fitting so loosely that it will easily drop out if the pipe be lifted. When the pipe has been driven deep enough to find water it is again raised say a foot. The plug stays in the place to which it was driven and remains attached by the slotted stem to the pipe. The stem being much smaller than the bore of the pipe [illegible] is, of course, a vacuum, through which the water flows into the lower end of the pipe and may be then [illegible] up by an ordinary suction pump attached to the end at the surface of the ground. Mr Joe Tucker has tested the practicability of the contrivance, by [illegible] a pipe which now works perfectly. Two men [illegible] in a few hours drive one of these pipes to a depth of [illegible] or forty feet, and thus the expense is but a trifle over the cost of pipe and pump. The peculiar advantage of the thing is that there is no possibility of the well being infested with drowned rats, insects, or [illegible] of any kind, and, in case water becomes low the [illegible] can at any time be driven deeper.

[illegible] DRILL.—A patent grain drill from Knapp Burrell & Co's was taken down to the wharf yesterday for [illegible] to a farmer a few miles out from the Dalles. At the [illegible] these machines are now used on the well tilled [illegible] not as generally as are harvesters and it is [illegible] that such is the economy of their use that the [illegible] is saved in sowing one hundred acres. Mr Burrell informs us that they are coming into use in [illegible] try, with satisfactory results, thus far. They [illegible] arranged that the amount of seed per acre can be [illegible] at pleasure, and they also have an attachment [illegible] tely measuring the acres gone over. With a [illegible] a driver can easily drill in from eight to [illegible] acres per day—more than any man could possibly sow [illegible] hand, to say nothing of the harrowing process which [illegible] the labor of another man. The grain is also [illegible] covered, and never drifts, leaving some places [illegible] bare while others are over-seeded, as in [illegible]. It is encouraging to see these indications [illegible] our farmers are about to adopt the late eastern [illegible] in farming.

PACIFIC RAILROAD BONDS.—The first mortgage bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad bonds have heretofore been sold at 95 per cent, and at that price were considered an excellent investment. The affairs of the company are, however, in such excellent condition, and the work of building the road westward, has progressed so much more rapidly than anticipated, that the bonds have gone up to par in New York. A telegram from New York dated March 28th, instructs the papers here to change the advertised price from 90 cents to par. The earnings of the road are already more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the company's bonds, and it is expected that from this time forward the bonds will be sought at par or even at a premium.

[illegible] WATER HOUSE.—We learn that this popular place [illegible] is now open again and prepared to receive visitors. The house itself has been thoroughly repaired and [illegible] in elegant style. The surrounding grounds have been cleared of the unsightly stumps which have [illegible], picnic grounds have been prepared for [illegible] modation of parties, and provided with arbors [illegible] floor, etc., a plat for base ball has also been prepared, and the place, generally, has received a complete [illegible] Messrs Cushing & Todd, the lessees, propose to keep the place up, and make it the favorite [illegible] all persons in this city or vicinity, seeking [illegible] or recreation.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE TEMPERANCE LIBRARY.—[illegible] that Gen E. L. Applegate has consented to give a lecture soon, for the benefit of the [illegible] ance Library. The time will be fixed [illegible], when due announcement will be made [illegible] some evening this week. As Gen Applegate [illegible] and independent thinker we doubt not he [illegible] something entirely new in the field of temperance; or, rather, that he will not lecture at [illegible], but on some subject quite as interesting [illegible] less hackneyed.

[illegible] MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The meeting for [illegible] of forming a Young Men's Christian Association was adjourned to Monday evening, was [illegible] to this evening. A general invitation [illegible] to all persons interested in such an organization [illegible] the meeting this evening, when the committee [illegible] to prepare a constitution and by-laws, [illegible]. The meeting, as before stated, will be held [illegible] room of the Presbyterian church, at half past seven o'clock.

[illegible]—The following were the arrivals of produce [illegible] day. Per steamer Wenat from Oregon City, 1,763 [illegible] flour, and 1 box and 1 gunny salmon. Per steam[illegible] from Oregon City, 176 bbls beef 403 bags [illegible] bale deer skins 2 pkgs beef hides, 24 boxes [illegible] bacon, 25 boxes apples, 8 rolls leather [illegible] dried apples, 1 pkg shrubs. Per Okanagan [illegible] and 57 sks oats. Per Alert, 2,412 qr sks [illegible] gunnies wheat, 507 boxes apples, 96 bbls pork, [illegible], 5 boxes eggs, 5 bales woolens, 1 coop

TAXES.—On Saturday next according to the advertisement of Mr L. M Parrish, Clerk of School District [illegible] 1, of this county, the property of delinquent [illegible] will be exposed to sale at auction, to make [illegible] and costs of collection. The advertisement contains a great number of names, many of whom have [illegible] to be thus advertised through carelessness or ignorance of the time when forced collection [illegible]. A little attention to the matter during [illegible] may save additional costs.

[illegible] IRON WORKS.—A brief visit to this [illegible], yesterday was sufficient to convince us that [illegible]. Several new machines purchased by [illegible] upon his recent visit to San Francisco, were being put up, while a considerable number of workmen [illegible] upon new water wheels, quartz mills steam [illegible], etc, etc. It is a busy place and just about that [illegible] body is prospering, or else there is nothing [illegible]

CHANGE OF PLACE.—The change of place of holding the [illegible] last evening, occurred in consequence of [illegible] illness of Mrs Stitzel—the residence of the [illegible] being in the basement of the court house. Her [illegible] thought the noise of the meeting would affect [illegible] unfavorably, and hence the change of base to [illegible] Hall

WIND AND WHIRLWIND.—Somebody who rejoices in [illegible] of "Mr Thom. White, has written a novel [illegible] "Wind and Whirlwind," and the publishers request us to puff it. Can't do it. Besides, if the body of the work is as windy as the title, mere puffing would not amount to a hill of beans.

[illegible] RAISED.—The flag staff in front of Multnomah [illegible] Co's house after being several days down and having received a thorough repairing was raised again yesterday afternoon. It looks decidedly neat in its "reconstructed" condition.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—We heard it stated yesterday that in consequence of the accident to the Ajax the [illegible] ship John L Stephens had been telegraphed for, and would leave this morning for Portland—one day sooner than advertised.

DISAPPOINTMENT.—The refusal of the Continental to take any passengers, yesterday was a disappointment to [illegible] a number of people who had come here expecting to take passage on her on Wednesday.

FAIR POSTPONED.—We are requested to state that owing to the unfinished condition of the Church building the M E Church Fair now in preparation, has been postponed till Tuesday evening April 14th.

FAVORS.—We are under obligations to Mr S J McCormick for a big bundle of pictorials magazines etc. He has a fresh lot received by the Continental including all the literary and fashion magazines.

NEEDS REPAIRS.—The bridge across Tanner's creek on the Cornell road, is said to be in bad if not dangerous [illegible]. It should be repaired before some serious casualty [illegible].

THE CR[illegible]—The schooner Alfred Crosby is reported to be in the C[illegible] en route to this port from Victoria. Nothing definite however is known, except that she is [illegible]

FAIR AT VAN[illegible].—We learn that the ladies of St [illegible] contemplate holding a fair [illegible] evenings of Wednesday and Thursday April 1st and [illegible]

DISCHARGING BALLAST.—The brig Brewster was yesterday discharging ballast at McCraken's wharf. To day she will be[illegible] taking in cargo [illegible] for San Francisco.

THE NORTH STAR.—The brig North Star sailed from San Francisco for this port on Sunday.

MESSAGE.—There is an Eastern Dispatch called for at the telegraph office for Mr [illegible] Atkins.

LIFE INSURANCE.—The business of the North Western Mutual Life Insurance Co is advertised this morning under the head of New To Day. It is one of the seven purely Mutual Companies now doing business in the United States, which [illegible] the Massachusetts reports are the most successful and it claims to [illegible] to the insurer than any other company. Mr H H [illegible] is the agent for Oregon and [illegible] a well known business man here [illegible] may rely upon being dealt with openly and fairly.

The location of a first class Merchant Tailoring Establishment in [illegible] has become a fixed fact. That most enterprising firm Barman Bros have in connection with their large stock of Fine Clothing opened a Merchant Tailoring establishment under the management of Mr W. King one of the most skillful men in his line on this coast.

NEW FIRM.—By advertisement this morning it will be seen that Messrs Jackson Sanderson & Co have become successors to Howard C[illegible]man & Co in the crockery and glass ware business, at No 36 Front street. The establishment is a first class one in its line and we recommend all out [illegible] and other dealers to patronize the new firm.

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.—Tuesday is a lucky day to buy a hat. M[illegible] has just opened another lot of fashionable styles received by the Continental—beautiful and light. It will therefore be lucky to the buyer to go to [illegible]. Anything wanted can be found there from a silk plug to [illegible] the commonest wear, including several pretty styles of boys hats.

PATHFINDER.—This celebrated horse lately imported from New Hampshire by Put Smith Esq, will be taken to Salem to day by Mr Thos Hagan, of California, a horseman of fifteen years experience. Pathfinder will stand during the season at Salem, Jefferson and Albany.

ST JOSEPH'S ACADEMY.—For terms of admission into this school see advertisement on 2d page. It will be seen that the managers are disposed to accommodate those who were not ready to enter at the beginning of the quarter.

LADIES.—Please call in to day and examine the new stock of goods just received at Mrs Levy's consisting of the finest spring styles of dress goods, all the latest and most fashionable styles of trimmings &c.

FURNITURE SALE.—Messrs Falk & Kraemer will sell to-day at 11 o'clock the entire furniture and fixtures of house at corner Morrison and Eighth streets.

The Wardens and Vestrymen of Trinity Church are requested to meet in the vestry room of the church this evening at 7½ o'clock.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels, Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

The Bladensburg Duelling Grounds

Bladensburg, the famous duelling ground, is situated in Maryland [illegible] miles from Washington. [illegible] a beautiful little grass plot [illegible] where a number of the most [illegible] have resorted to perform the deadly work.

In 1814 Edward Hopkins [illegible] a duel. This [illegible] the first of these fashionable [illegible] duelling ground.

In 1814 A. T. Mason, United States Senator, fought with his cousin [illegible] McCarty [illegible]. McCarty [illegible] and the night [illegible] that Mason would fight [illegible] kets loaded with [illegible] shot and [illegible] together that they would [illegible] on their faces. This was changed by their seconds to fighting with bullets, and taking twelve feet as the distance. Mason was instantly killed, and McCarty, who had his collar bone broken, still lives with Mason's sister in Georgetown. His hair turned white so soon after the duel as to cause not [illegible] He has since been solicited to act as second in a duel, but refused on account of a pledge he made his wife soon after killing her brother.

In 1820, Commodore Decatur was killed in a duel here by Commodore Barron. At the first fire both fell forward within ten feet of each other, and each supposed himself mortally wounded, each fully and freely forgave the other, still lying on the ground. Decatur expired immediately, but Barron eventually recovered.

In 1821, two strangers named Lega and Sega appeared here, fought, and Sega was instantly killed. The neighborhood only learned this much of their names from the marks on their gloves, left on the ground. Sega was not hurt.

In 1822, Midshipman Locke was killed by a clerk in the Treasury Department named Gibson. The latter was not hurt.

In 1826, Henry Clay fought (his second duel) with John Randolph, just across the Potomac, as Randolph preferred to die if at all on Virginia soil. He received Clay's shot and then fired into the air. This was in accordance with a declaration made to Mr. Benton, who spoke to Randolph of a call, the evening before on Mrs. Clay, and alluded to the quiet sleep of the child and the repose of the mother. Randolph quickly replied: "I shall do nothing to disturb the sleep of the child or the repose of the mother."

When Randolph fired he remarked: "I do not shoot at you, Mr. Clay," and extending his hand, he advanced toward Mr. Clay, who rushed to meet him. Randolph showed Clay where his bullet struck his coat, and said facetiously: "Mr. Clay, you owe me a coat."

Clay replied: "Thank God the debt is no greater." They were friends ever after.

In 1832, Martin was killed by Carr. Their first names are not remembered. They were from the South.

In 1833, Mr. Key, son of Frank Key, brother of Barton Key, of Sickles notoriety, met Mr. Sherbon and exchanged shots when Sherbon said:

"Mr. Key, I have no desire to kill you."

"No matter," said Key, "I came to kill you."

"Very well, then," said Sherbon, "I will kill you." And he did.

In 1838, W. J. Graves, of Kentucky, assuming the quarrel of James Watson Webb with Jonathan Ciley, of Maine, selected this place for Ciley's murder; but the parties learning that Webb with two friends, Jackson and Merrill, were armed and in pursuit, for the purpose of assassinating Ciley, moved toward the river and nearer the city. Their pursuers moved toward the river, but missed the parties and then returned to the city, to which they were soon followed by Graves and the corpse of Ciley.

Object of the Kuklux Klan—Its Extent in Tennessee.—The "Kuklux" is a purely political organization, and its object may be stated in a very few words. It is to work upon the ears of the colored people, and intimidate them to such an extent as to keep them from the ballot-box. The rapidity with which the Klan has spread shows with what favor it is looked upon by the conservatives. Meeting with the approbation and encouragement of his party, it is not at all astonishing that it already numbers its members by thousands. Two weeks ago the Kuklux was unknown in Williamson county. Now it exists there in complete and thorough organization, and has already commenced operations. In this latter section of country, however, the conclave act with circumspection, but perhaps none the less effectively. The members of the society, clad in winding sheets and carefully masked, visit the quarters of the freedmen, where, in hollow, sepulcheral tones, they represent themselves as rebel soldiers who have come forth from their graves. All this, of course works deeply upon the superstitious natures of the freedmen, and no wonder that they had an ominous dread. It is a fact, that wherever the society exists the colored people venture forth after nightfall with extreme reluctance, and never, when they can avoid it.—Nashville Press and Times.

Democratic Principles.—The New York Tribune, in an article written before the recent election in New Hampshire, thus felicitously alludes to the tactics of the Democracy in that campaign:

Does a voter like what Johnson has done? "Ah," says the Democratic stumper, "Johnson is our man." Does a voter dislike what Johnson has done? "Ah," says the same stumper, "we are not responsible for Johnson." They are at liberty to oppose all the policies of reconstruction that have been tried, and to propose nothing instead. If a voter sees no harm in negro suffrage, Senator Doolittle will explain how happy it will make the Democratic party to allow all negroes to vote who can read and write, own land, or have fought for the Union. If a voter regards the negro as an inferior being, Mr. Pillsbury or Mr. Lovejoy will locate him scientifically anywhere between the gorilla and the ant eater. If the temper of his audience manifests an unmistakable devotion to Grant, the speaker can explain to his hearers wherein Hancock surpasses General Washington. He who thinks the rebels were fighting for their constitutional rights in an unconstitutional way, will learn that the Southern Democrats ought not to have left the party, but should have fought out the question in a peaceable way.

If some cynical Democrat regards the war as unconstitutional, he has rehearsed to him in private the martyrdom of Vallandigham and the heroism of the avenging Booth. If he believes the rebellion was right, he will be assured the Democratic party was that rebellion. He who declares it was wrong, will be told it never could have been suppressed but for the Democratic party. He who wants gold, will be told that we never should have anything else if Chase's financial blunders had not cursed us with greenbacks. He who wants more greenbacks, will learn that that is the Democratic principle, and that it originated with Mr. Pendleton. Thus the Democratic platform becomes a "harp of a thousand strings," on which the voter is invited to sound whichever note he pleases.

A Picture of Life Among the English Poor.—The London Review tells this sad story:

A poor woman drowned herself in the Thames last week, as the Coroner's jury found, "while in a state of unsound mind through distress." Her husband had for six months been unable to make more than six shillings a week out of which he had to pay 1s 8d a week rent, 1s 6d for the loan of a barrow to carry on his trade of "general dealer," and to support a wife and four children with the remainder. The wife, who was suckling her youngest child all this time, did her best to contribute to their resources. She made slop shirts at a penny a shirt, and for the better sort of shirt she used to get 1½d to 1¾d and even so much as 2d. But to earn even this pittance she had to find her own needles and thread. For weeks these poor creatures, who bore the highest character for industry and good conduct, would go without tasting meat; they lived on bread and dripping, when they could get it. When the father had no work they lived on nothing, and the daughter says that her mother used often to say to her, "Oh my, Polly, ain't it dreadful—we have got nothing to eat again to-day." These poor people never applied to the workhouse. They thought of doing so, but refrained in the hope, as the husband said to his wife, that "perhaps there will be better luck another day."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL surpasses all other remedies in the rapid and radical cure of Colds, Coughs and Consumption.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Pension.—Soldiers and Sailors disabled, or who have lost any of their limbs are entitled to pension. Those who lost limbs are entitled to additional sums from $7 to $17 per month, according to condition. Widows are entitled to $2 per month extra for each child under 16 years of age.

Commutation of Travel.—California and Nevada Volunteers discharged in Arizona, New Mexico or Utah, and at points distant from the place of enlistment, are entitled to actual cost of transportation, less the amount paid at the time of discharge.

Three Months' Pay Proper.—Volunteer Officers who were in the service March 3, 1865, and were honorably discharged after April 9, 1865, are entitled to three months' pay proper.

Lost Horses.—Cavalry Soldiers who entered the service prior to June 20, 1864, and owned the horses and equipments they used are entitled to 40 cents per day for the period of service, and to pay for equipments lost and each horse killed in battle or lost without fault of soldier.

Commutation of Rations.—Soldiers, Sailors and Marines who were prisoners of war during the Rebellion are entitled to commutation of rations at cost prices during the period of their imprisonment.

Servants of Army Officers.—The allowance for servants of all officers who were in the service at any time between May 1, 1864, and March 3, 1865, is equal to the pay of a private soldier during the time for each servant allowed and employed. As only $11 per month was allowed for the intervening ten months, instead of $16 authorized, every officer is entitled to $50 additional for each servant so employed.

Bounty Land Warrants.—All officers, soldiers, sailors, marines, their widows, former widows or children, who were actually engaged in battle in any war between 1790 and March 3, 1855, are entitled to a Land Warrant of 160 acres, if they have received less than that amount they are entitled to the balance to make 160 acres.

All communications to be noticed should be addressed as above and contain postage stamps for a reply.

PATHFINDER!

THIS NOTED HORSE, RECENTLY IMported from New Hampshire, is twelve years old, sixteen hands high, and when in working order weighs Eleven Hundred Pounds. He is of a deep brown color, and was sired by the and claimed by Mr. Morrill to be one of the Best Horses ever begotten by that celebrated Trotter.

PATHFINDER HAS TROTTED A MILE IN PUBLIC IN TWO MINUTES AND THIRTY-SIX SECONDS, and in private has done better by four seconds. He is undoubtedly unfit for his training.

THE FASTEST STALLION IN NEW ENGLAND!

He possesses the rare faculty of imparting to his stock all the best qualities of the sire, including both size and speed. Few if any of his colts that have arrived at the age of five years can be bought for a less sum than Five Hundred, and some are held as high as Fifteen Hundred Dollars, all being noted for their speed and endurance.

THE PATHFINDER will stand the present season at S. DURBIN'S STABLE, SALEM, April 1st, and at JEFFERSON and ALBANY.

TERMS—$25 (GOLD COIN) FOR THE SEASON.

H. W. SHIPLEY & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

SHIPLEY'S PATENT PACIFIC

TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION, has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS, AND USES THREE-FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE.

The old high priced, unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been PLATED OUT by a fair working trial made by Mr. H. Kelly at his saw mill, and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature.

Mr. H. W. Shipley, Sir:—In reply to your inquiry as to how I like you Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over-shot and three Leffel wheels—10, 14 and 15 inch diameters. When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 15 inch Leffell wheel, though unfinished it worked the machinery like a top, using 54 feet of water per minute more than the 15 inch Leffell. At your request I subsequently took your wheel out that it might be finished, and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel, but it gave no better power than yours while it used 52 cubic feet more water per minute. After some months, I replaced your wheel as I am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests. For instance, while running the circular saw in a log which required 15 inches, I added the planer with a 9 inch knife, cutting from one eighth to one-fourth of an inch depth, with out in the least slacking the speed. After thorough tests of both wheels I am satisfied that your wheel with gate one eighth of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffell with gates one third open. At half gate, your wheel gives double the power of the Leffel at half gate. At full gate the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel, by from ten to twelve per cent. At quarter gate, the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.

N. B.—Mr. Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, he being sick at the first, and absent from the State, at the second trial.

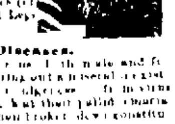
Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons of both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid countenances and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they ... and suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrid life destroying maladies—see that they are cured [illegible] and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is my duty to advise those who are afflicted, and those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, pretending to skill in curing all diseases in a few days only, deceiving the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, stove makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes, but I think you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

INSTITUTE.

- ⁂ CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.
- ⁂ CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
- ⁂ IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge;

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so unhealthy a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may suspect my motive, but the desire to point out to those who [illegible] anguish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How one [illegible] the terrible disease of Seminal W[illegible] none but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell, but its presence can be fixed by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs; [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power, nervousness, [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot heads [illegible] of consumption, short breath, flushings of the face, aversion to society, confusion of the mind, loss of [illegible] nightly emissions; colorless, slight discharges upon the least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the heart, irregular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the [illegible] symptoms enumerated above, pause to [illegible]. The present is the golden moment in which you may [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse [illegible] the slightest degree, you have the seeds of [illegible] in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is not a disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger, for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or [illegible] functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, [illegible] Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye.

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms [illegible] at first it is easily shaken off, but it grows every [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular b[illegible]. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights [illegible] days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a depth [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible]. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepid and degenerate. This is [illegible] able to both sexes, whether married or single, and in all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of the terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to [illegible]. The only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when taken in time, always guaranteed, and full and proper vigor restored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED with VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the [illegible] of the Institute, the number of cases of V[illegible] that have been treated show a record unsurpassed by any [illegible] in the world, and the success that has [illegible] the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established medical principle that those [illegible] drugs, by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases, in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible] without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be: Where is there a physician competent to [illegible] relief and whose respectable standing in society will commend him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been Professor of Obstetrics and Female Di[illegible] ty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial [illegible] but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice in the hospitals and private families—can make, to rescue them from the hands of the unqualified, [illegible] designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in [illegible] in whom the utmost confidence can be [illegible]. Consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the [illegible]. Private apartments are provided, when desired, [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and faithful [illegible].

To Correspondents.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and [illegible] bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to [illegible] to them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence and either be returned or destroyed.

☞ Consultation free.
